

Some Thoughts and Memories of Soren (extracted from e-mails)

Hugh Saurenman: With some of the TRB stuff over the past year I had my first real chance to interact with Soren, and I had never realized what an interesting person Soren was and how many of our interests and concerns overlapped. I was looking forward to getting to know him better.

Roger Wayson: Soren was a good man. I mean that as the highest form of praise. Wendy and I will miss him.

Bill McColl: Soren was always a gentleman. It was especially nice being with him.

Mariano Berrios: What a loss! I can't express the sadness I felt when I saw your e-mail. It just shocked me. Of course I did not know him for as long as you did, but in 7 years+ I got to spend a good amount of time with him and Harvey and learned to like him a lot both personally and professionally. He was always so down to earth, understanding and helpful. He always treated me with respect and he became a good friend very quickly. But, when the good Lord wants you back you have to comply. I am sure he is much better than we are enjoying the glory of the Lord in heaven. I am sure God has a special place for him up there where noise is not an annoyance. He will be greatly missed.

Boone and Wendi Bucher: Soren is in a better place though and out of pain, however, he will surely be missed.

Karen Robertson: I liked Soren so very much; I can still hear him laugh, and smell his pipe. :-)

Mark Ferroni: He was a great guy with a wealth of knowledge and a lot of fun to be with. I have so many great TRB memories, and Soren was always a big part of them.

Dave Zawada: It is hard to believe that Soren passed away. I will surely miss him. He was such a vital member of our committee and a good friend.
